Our lawyers help many clients create a plan for charitable giving. These plans may include the establishment and operation of a family charitable trust or foundation, outright bequests, or the establishment of endowments or scholarship funds.

In addition, we help both public charities and private foundations operate in compliance with applicable state and federal laws and regulations, including the preparation of federal and state income tax and reporting forms. Our lawyers work closely with our firm's Philanthropic Support Group and Tax-Exempt Organization Group to assist donors and charitable organizations achieve their planning and giving goals.
